

in the name of the Republic of Texas. Before arriving at Laredo affiant took theague. In consequence of affiant's illness he was unable to proceed further with the expedition, after the taking of Laredo. Affiant received at Laredo, a regular written discharge from Capt. Walker, which discharge affiant has lost and cannot now produce.

Affiant returned from Laredo to near Washington, the Capital of the Republic at that time - he went to the office of Mr. Hill, then acting Secretary of War, and showed his discharge to him. Affiant has never received any pay or remuneration, either in Land or Money for his said services, either under the Commands of Stephens or Walker, either from the Republic of Texas or from any other source whatever. This company paid their own expenses.

Said John B. Haunes, who has signed the foregoing power of attorney to John L. Scott, states that he went to Texas as aforesaid in the year 1842 - that he was a single man - that he arrived in Texas about the months of May, 1842 & remained in Texas, ^{as} aforesaid, until about the month of December, 1843 - Affiant suffered much privation and affliction occasioned by said services, for which he has never received any remuneration whatever. Affiant makes this affidavit and application for the purpose of recovering the lands and pay to which he may be entitled for his said services. Affiant has
